

Five Facts About Archaeology:

1. “Arrowheads” are usually called projectile points by archaeologists, unless there is an arrow shaft attached to them.
2. Dumps are called middens by archaeologists.
3. Privy’s (outhouses) are a favourite spot to dig for archaeologists. They often made for a soft and gentle landing for artifacts.
4. We need to be licensed to do archaeology in the province of Ontario.
5. The difference between a bulldozer and an archaeologist is that the archaeologist records everything before it is destroyed!

A Little About Us....

Who we are.....

Museums: Looking for a way to augment your hands on activities? We can develop special programs that highlight archaeology, excavation, analysis and interpretation.

Corporate Retreats: the emphasis is on participation and group dynamics. Special programs work on interactive and cooperative skills. If you don't mind getting your hands dirty, we can arrange that too!

The Perfect Program for You:

We cater to schools, camps, museums, and corporations.

Looking to fill out the school curriculum? We can help! SJA I has professional archaeologists who will come to your school and provide lectures on archaeology. We put the fun back in learning with hands on activities. Students learn the basics of sorting, analyzing and repairing of artifacts; stratigraphy; dating; site mapping and drawing, methods of excavation, etc.....

Camps: We can develop a mock site at your camp to conduct excavations on with the campers.

We Cater to Your Needs:

Tell us what you need and we can develop a specific program for you.

We've gone into classrooms for lectures on prehistoric and historic archaeology. We've spoken to the Bruce Trail Club Association about cultural heritage landscape recognition. We've developed programs for gifted students. We set up a program at the Regional Municipality of Waterloo where employees were permitted to take a half day from work to experience archaeology first hand.

If you would like us to prepare material on archaeology elsewhere in the world – we can do that too!

- Sandbox archaeology
- Mock archaeological sites
- Classroom activities
- Corporate retreats
- Specialty programming
